As part of a small, close-knit team, I was involved in every aspect of the filmmaking process

Our responsibilities went well beyond formal titles, ensuring that even the smallest details were carefully managed

These experiences gave me the opportunity to have end-to-end involvement — spanning from writing, production, release, as well as promotional strategy & content creation

ROLE FIT

— for —

COLLABORATION

Your Company stands among the industry's most dynamic, big-canvas storytellers—driving a diverse slate that balances star-driven spectacles with concept-forward narratives, while steadily building reach across regional and pan-Indian markets.

With operations that combine local cultural insight and global production ambition, the company continues to expand its impact on contemporary entertainment

For a concept-based, AI-accelerated writer/filmmaker, collaborating with you is more than a role—it's an entry into a live creative ecosystem that develops multiple projects simultaneously, values fresh voices, and actively shapes the future of storytelling. Such co-creation offers a rare opportunity to open new dimensions in mainstream content
